INDIANAPOLIS THURSDAY MORNING, NOV. 27, 1856.

Mr. West and the Journal. The Journal of yesterday has an article

The simple fact that Mr. West is "an in telligent, honorable, generous man," renders him upassailable; and the admission of this fact by the Journal, in the broad and unqualfind terms in which it is made, is a confession that its attack was a piece of sheer wantonness, without a single circumstance to palliate it. The attempt of the Journal to justify itself on the ground that the Sentinel "ignorantly and foolishly assailed the Republican candidate," is a pitiful resort, of which an "intelligent, honorable, generous man" would scorn to avail himself. It is the plead of the pick-pocket, who would justify himself for plundering his victim, because some other "member of the profession" had established a procedent. Whether the "ignorance and foolishness" of the Sentinel is a sufficient cover to the acknowledged wickedness of the Journal, is a question, we think, which expert casuists will find no difficulty against itself.

Steamboat "Bay City," her tackle, apparel, &c.

In Admiralty.

Whereas, a libel has been filed in the District Court of the United States for the District of Indiana, on the 24th day of October, 1856, by Robert Pattison and Vesper Nicho's, partners as Pattison and Nichols, against the steamboat Bay City, her tackle, apparel and furniture, alleging in substance that the libellants were the owners of a flat-boat loaded with Hams, Bacon sides, Paper, Lard, Brooms, Bread, and other articles suitable to atrading voyage—that while the said boat thus loaded, was on its way to New Orleans, in charge of a competent crew, and when the flat-boat had reached Film Island, in the Ohio river about hinety miles below Louisville, she grounded in consequence of low water, and without any fault or negligence on the part of her crew—that while she was thus lying there safe and sound, and the crew had procured a lighter and were beginning to lighten her of her cargo, the steamboat "Bay City," with a wood-flat in tow on her starboard side, and a barge on her larboard side, being in full sight of the flat-boat, came down and rounded herself and barge upon the edge of the island where the libellants flat-boat lay—that the officers and crew of the "Bay City" then proceeded carelessly to spar down the steamboat off from the bar, and purposely and neg ligently, pressed the said wood-flat, attached to the steamboat, against the libellants' boat and crowded the same on the bar—broke in the larboard side of their flat-boat, whereby she filled with water—and the said collision and injury was caused solely by the want of care negligence and want of skill on the part of the said steamboat "Bay City," and the libellants have suffered damage in consequence thereofty the loss and deterioration of their goods, in the sum of $4,396 79, and were also put to the expense of $6.37 37 in saving the cargo, and repairing the boat, amounting in all to the sum of $5.031 16, which they say is a lien on the steamboat, her ma

High Price of Provisions in Minnesota.

We have received a very able communication from our correspondent "W," reviewing the history of the Democratic party, and descanting on its present position in the most statesmanlike manner. It is necessarily, having such a scope, of great length, and therefore, though the production of a master hand, we are unwillingly compelled to defer its publication. The views of no man in the country are prefounder or more philisophical than are those of our correspondent.

High Price of Provisions in Minnesota. We learn from Captain Hillhouse, just down from Hastings, thirty miles below St. Paul, that the river at that point closed one week ago yesterday, and in consequence thereof provisions had advanced very much. He into the first of the first files in Havans; the insect being caught and carefully fed on the sugar-cane, is used as as an ornament in butter 50 cents per pound; and every other article in proportion, and it was thought by all that prices would be much higher during the winter. Captain Hillhouse further informs us that the river is falling all the way and sell them to the city belles; some of them forms us that they found considerable ice.

They make fine disply by lamping the bogs, serpents and shells which are most in demand. The nearest approach to his business that we can remember, the trade of the fire-flies in Havans; the insect being caught and carefully fed on the sugar-cane, is used as as an ornament in ladies' dresses. Being twice the size of the American fire-fly, it is very brilliant at night. The creoles catch them on the plantations, and sell them to the city belles; some of them forms us that the river is falling all the way carrying them in silver cages attached to their being caught. (From the Baltimore American.) THE PORK MARKET. To the Editors of the Baltimore American :

There being much said relative to the value of Pork or the season now open, allow a subscriber to call at-ention to a few facts relative to the business as seen tention to a few facts relative 30 the custome as seen from this point.

The history of the business for two years past is very simple. The drought of 1854 was universal. Scarcely and Corn was made, hence a very short crop of hogs, and they of poor quality, being principally fed on mast. From this light crop an enormous amount was taken for export. The whole Eastern and Southern country were heavy consumers as compared with preceding years, and the Corn crop being an entire failure the previous senson, hence we had famine prices of Bacon at the close of 1856.

provious senson, hence we had famine prices of Bacon at the close of 1856.

The Corn crop of 1855 being flae all over the country, the increase of hogs was about 25 per cent. The export demand was still larger than the preceding year. The Armies and Navies of France and England being prinarmies and Navies of France and England collag principally supplied by us—part of which is now being returned—and the population of those countries and a large portion of Germany consuming an immense amount of our bacon, pork and beef, operators from our Southern country bought immensely at moderate prices. This immense demand combined with the hoarding of a large amount of bacon in the West, leaving the Eastern cities with a comparatively small stock. ing the Eastern cities with a comparatively small stock and operators throwing doubts on the report of increas as stated by the Cincinnati Price Current, started the speculation which forced up prices of bacon and barrel ed pork in June to the highest point reached. In Jul and August it was found, at least so far as bacon we concerned that the export demand was over our owner. concerned, that the export demand was over our own consuming and exporting States full of stock, with a large portion of that packed in Tennessee scarcely touched. Then came the desire to realize, and the statement of the Chicinnati Price Current was again considered. The condition of the business from that time on is so well known to every dealer that is useless

BALLARD'S NEW HAIR DYE. It would seem as if Ballard had found out the chemic tuents of the natural coloring principle of the hair. Cer'ainly the rich and lustrous browns or black imparted by his Hair Dye are not surpassed by the living hees they so perfectly imitate. His preparation unquestionably deserved the premium it obtained at the World's Fair, and the formal approval it has received frem the most eminent chemists of the United States.

R. R. R. FIFTEEN MEDICAL MUMMIES.— The institution called the Medical Faculty, we look upon as a buge mummy, that has been wrapped up and hidden from the sight and understand of the world for ages. the United States was intended more especially for those of our fatherland scattered here and there ever the face of this mighty country. Meeting with great success among them, I now offer it to the American public, knowing that its truly wonderful medical virtues must be acknowieeged.

It is particularly recommended to those persons whose constitutions may have been impaired by the continuous use of ardent spirits, or other forms of dissipation. Generally instantaneous in effect, it finds its way directly to the scat of life, thrilling and quickening every nerve, raising the drooping spirit, and, in fact infusing new health and vigor in the system.

CAUTION The great popularity of this delightful Aroma has in-fuced many imitations, which the public should guard gainst purchasing. Be not persuaded to buy anything else until you have given Boerhave's Holland Bitters t fair trial. One bottle will convince you how infinitely superior it is to all these imitations.
